India and Iraq have historical and civilizational ties. Iraqi port of Basra was not only the market par excellence of the Indian merchandise including textiles, spices, food-grains and other commodities for the Arab world but also of the famous pearl trade that flourished mainly through the Indian traders and jewellers. Indian soldiers and railway workers from British India had played major role in ensuring the security in this region during the colonial era and have left an imprint in the region that many Iraqis still proudly claim their Indian ethnic descent. India and Iraq have even shared agricultural practices. The breed of the southern Iraqi Jamus or the water buffalo had been brought by Harun Al Rashid from India. The Iraqi Philosophers and Sufi saints like Hasan al Basri, Junaid Al Baghdadi and Sheikh Behlul had such an impact on the spiritual movements in India that Guru Dev Nanak Saheb came personally to Baghdad to deliberate on the ontological and the epistemological questions with Sheikh Behlul who hosted him for nearly three months. Iraqi spiritual leader Sheikh Syed Abdul QadirJeelani has enormous following in India where he is referred to either as DastagirSaheb or Ghaus-al-Azam. On the other hand, Indians were among the foremost to patronize the Shrines and Sarai Khanas of the heritage of Islam’s primeval martyrdom at Karbala. Thousands of Indians visit the shrines of Imam Hussein and Imam Abbas in Karbala every year and also the shrine of Sheikh Abdul QadirJeelani in Baghdad.

Since the outbreak of war in Iraq, India has been supporting a free, democratic, pluralistic, federal and unified Iraq. India responded to the urgent needs of Iraq for relief and economic reconstruction directly and as part of international efforts under the UN auspices. In response to UN Secretary General’s urgent appeal, India committed US$ 20 mn for assistance to the Iraqi people in 2003. Activities under this pledge included supply of milk powder through World Food Programme, training of Iraqi Foreign Service officers in diplomacy, and other Iraqi officials in Information Technology. In cooperation with World Food Programme (WFP), India provided fortified biscuits to Iraqi school children and Iraqi refugees in Syria. In addition, India contributed US$ 10 million towards the International Reconstruction Fund Facility for Iraq (IRFFI) for investments, reconstruction and development in Iraq.

High-level visits: There have been high-level political exchanges between the two countries in recent years which are summarized below:

The last round of the bilateral Joint Commission meeting was held in July 2013 in Baghdad. Indian side was led by Dr. Veerappa Moily, Minister for Petroleum & Natural Gas and the Iraqi side by Mr. Abdul Kareem Luaiibi, Minister of Oil.

Parliamentary Exchanges: There is Iraq-India Parliamentary Friendship Group in the Iraqi Parliament (Council of Representatives) led by Mr. Helal Al Sahlan. All of its seven members are high-profile political leaders from across the country. Mr. Osama Al Nujaifi, Speaker of the Iraqi Parliament had visited India in December 2012 and had meetings with Speakers of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha. Mr. Humam Al Hamoudi, Deputy Speaker of Iraqi Parliament visited India in April 2017.

Economic and Commercial relations

The economic and trade relations between India and Iraq slowed down after the invasion of Iraq in 2003. However, the total bilateral trade has grown steadily since 2010, mainly due to increasing crude oil imports. The value of total trade increased from US$ 5.7 billion in 2006-07 to US$ 20.52 billion in 2012-2013. Trade figures in the subsequent years declined largely due to fall in the global oil prices, however bilateral trade has actually increased in quantity, both in exports and imports. In FY 2016-17, bilateral trade with Iraq was valued at US$ 12.81 billion, accounting for about 1.95% of our total foreign trade. Iraq was our 15th largest trading partner in 2016-17. Details of India’s bilateral trade with Iraq in the last five years are summarized below:

Iraq has consistently been among the top largest suppliers of crude oil to India. In 2016, Iraq supplied 37.81 MMT crude to India worth US$ 11.63 billion. It was the largest supplier of crude to India in the first half of 2017. Indian Oil Corporation, HPCL and BPCL are the major importers.

In addition to import of crude in bulk oil, India also imports commodities like raw wool and sulphur from Iraq. Indian exports to Iraq consist of cereals, iron and steel, meat and meat products, pharmaceutical products, agro chemicals, cosmetics, rubber manufactured products, paints, gems and jewellery, ceramics, manufactures of metals, machine tools, electrical machinery and instruments, transport equipment, electronic goods, handicrafts, sugar, tea, garments. A significant volume of exports takes place through Dubai and other destinations.

Iraq used to be the main destination of huge project for Indian companies. In the post-war era, there is some presence of Indian companies: M/S MokulShriram JV had won a US$235 Million contract to rebuild the sewerage system for Basrah; MsShapoorjiPollonji had won a US$ 85 Million contract to rebuild a Hotel in Basrah and MsLancoInfratech had won a US 81 Million EPC contract to build the Akaaz power project.

The Mission organized the first Najaf-India Trade Show at the International Trade Fair ground in Najaf in September 2016 in which 34 Indian companies exhibited their products. The Trade Show was inaugurated by the Deputy Trade Minister of Iraq. The Fair was followed by B2B meetings between the businessmen of both countries at Najaf and in Baghdad.

Iraqi pharmaceuticals companies have been actively participating in various trade promotion events organized in India. More than 80 Indian pharmaceuticals companies are supplying medicines to the Iraqi market. A number of Indian hospitals are on the panel of Iraqi Health Ministry where the latter sends eligible Iraqi patients. The First Master Class on Epilepsy Surgery between the Neurosurgeons of both sides was held in Baghdad on March 3-4, 2017.

People to people contacts: The respect for each other’s strength has been mutual between India and Iraq. The people to people and institutional contacts are so deep that today India has become the most preferred destination for Iraqis for seeking quality medical treatment. Hundreds of Iraqis prefer to send their children for higher education to India on self-financing basis. There is hardly a University in Iraq of which some faculty has not studied in India. About 10,000 Iraqi students have been doing their PhD, Masters and undergraduate studies in India. The Mission is currently issuing around 200 visas per day going up to 350-400 during the summer. Majority of the travellers visit India for Medical purposes, tourism, education, and for business. In the calendar year 2016, a total of 42,135 visas of different categories have been issued by the Mission. The third UN International Day of Yoga was celebrated with great enthusiasm in Baghdad on June 17, 2017.

Capacity building: The academic linkages in the medical and engineering fields have throughout been vibrant. In terms of capacity building, India has annually been providing assistance to Iraq under the Indian Technical and Economic Cooperation (ITEC) programme to train officials of the Government of Iraq. For the year 2017-18, a total of 175 slots have been allotted under ITEC programme. In addition, India has been offering opportunity to Iraqi students for higher studies in India under ‘General Scholarship Scheme’ (GSS) organized by the Indian Council of Cultural Relations (ICCR). The Indian Oil Corporation Limited (IOC) has provided training to the Iraqi oil officials in India in various subjects related to downstream oil sector.

Indian community: Before the Gulf war in 1991, there were more than 80,000 Indian nationals in Iraq. Most of them left Iraq before the war started. After the 2003 invasion, thousands of Indian workers were recruited by contractors to provide various services to foreign military bases in Iraq. Many of them left with the deteriorating security situation in the country. With the lifting of the Government of India advisory against travel of Indians to Iraq which was in vogue from 2004 till May 2010, the number of Indian workers had steadily increased in the more stable Kurdistan region comprising Erbil, Sulaimaniya and Dohuk governorates, with better salaries and working conditions in steel mills, oil companies and construction projects. When the ISIS took over large parts of Iraq in 2014, Government of India evacuated thousands of Indian nationals from Iraq. At present, the total number of Indians in Iraq is now estimated to be around 10,000-12,000, mostly in Kurdistan region, Basra, Najaf and Karbala. About 30,000-40,000 Indians visit Baghdad, Karbala, Najaf and Samarrah in Iraq for pilgrimage annually.
