Indian community

The beginning of Indian presence in Zimbabwe goes back to about 1890 when Indian plantation workers in South Africa crossed over to Zimbabwe in what was then known as Southern Rhodesia. This PIO community mostly of Gujarati origin has mainly engaged itself in retail trade or export-import business. Some members of the community hold US/Canadian/British/Australian passports.

By and large, the Indian community is well respected in Zimbabwe and has maintained cordial relations with the majority community. Senator K.G Patel, who died in 2011, was a member of the Politburo and Central Committee of ZANU-PF, the ruling party and was accorded status of a national hero in 2012; Mr. Bharat Patel is now a Constitutional Court judge; and Justices A.M. Ebrahim and Mahomed Ali Adam have retired as Supreme Court and High Court judges, respectively. Justice (Retd.) A.M. Ebrahim had been awarded Pravasi Bhartiya Samman in 2004. Mr. Raj Modi, who was elected as ZANU-PF Member of Parliament from Bulawayo South Constituency, is the Deputy Minister of Industry and Commerce, since September 2023.
